

Save the date!

Data protection regulation & financial services

What: The implications of the EU data protection reform for financial services providers

When: Wednesday 30 January 2013, 16.00-18.30

Where: Thomson Reuters, Avenue Marnix 17 1000 Brussels

Confirmed speakers include: MEP Seán Kelly (EPP, Ireland), rapporteur for the European Parliament's Industry Committee's opinion on the Data protection regulation, and John Bruton, Chairman of the Irish International Financial Services Centre and Former Irish Taoiseach (Prime minister).

Purpose: A discussion between EU decision makers and financial industry stakeholders on the key challenges of the proposed horizontal data protection regulation for the financial services sector. Officials from the Institutions are also welcome to attend.

For pre-registration, please send an email to registration@cabinetdn.com
Event programme to follow in due course.

Hosted by:

THOMSON REUTERS

In association with:

